

Today in History

January 22, 1970

▲ The first Boeing 747, nicknamed the “Jumbo Jet”, that made air travel affordable for millions of people around the globe, entered commercial service

1939: The uranium atom was split for the first time using the cyclotron at Columbia University in New York

1949: Chinese communist leader Mao Tse-Tung marched into Peking to take control of the country

1964: Kenneth Kaunda was sworn in as the first prime minister of Northern Rhodesia, now Zambia

1984: The Apple Macintosh computer was introduced in a TV commercial during the Super Bowl