

Today in History

March 5, 1918

▲ Moscow replaced Petrograd as the new capital of Russia, with the Kremlin once again becoming the seat of political power under the new Soviet government

1960: Cuban photographer Alberto Korda captured his iconic image of Che Guevara

1963: The plastic hula-hoop, inspired by bamboo hoops used by children in gym class, was patented

1984: Scientists warned that the increased production of carbon dioxide was heating up the earth's atmosphere

2018: Trevor Baylis, who created the wind-up radio that helped millions in the developing world, died aged 80