

India threatens to choke water supply

India is threatening to restrict the flow of river water to Pakistan following a suicide bomb attack for which Delhi blames Islamabad

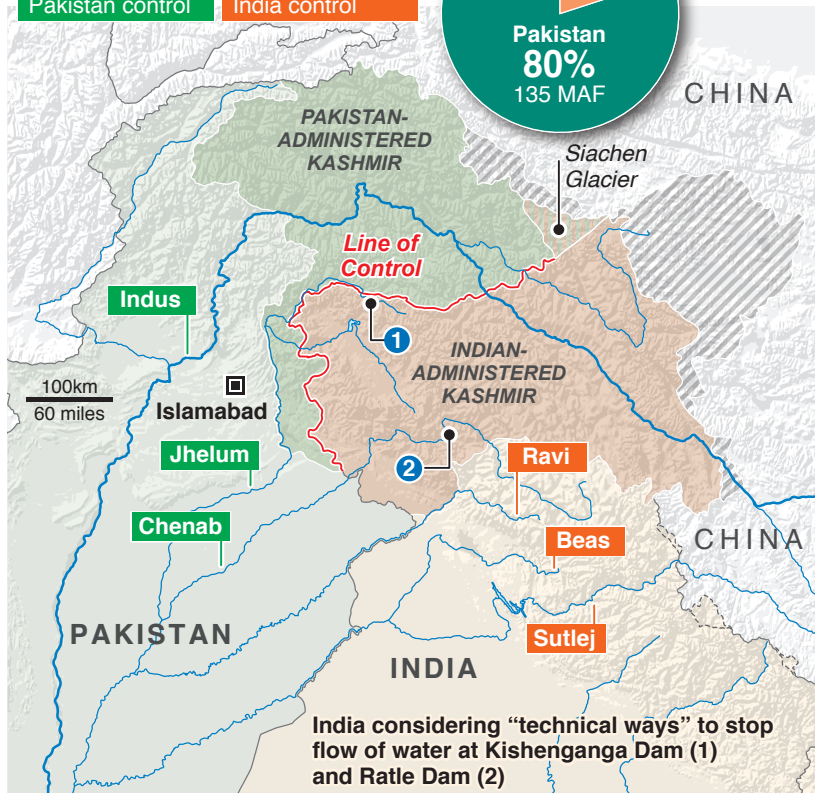

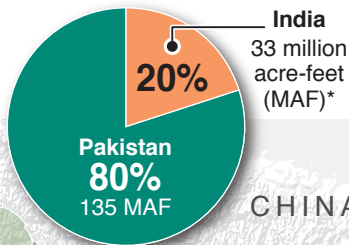

1960 Indus Water Treaty (IWT)

India has full use of all water from three eastern rivers, but must allow unrestricted flow of water from western rivers to Pakistan

Western rivers
Pakistan control

Eastern rivers
India control

Water allocation from six-rivers of Indus basin under IWT

India considering “technical ways” to stop flow of water at Kishenganga Dam (1) and Ratle Dam (2)