

NASA astronaut sets female space record

Christina Koch has set a new record for the longest continuous stay in space by a woman. Her 328-day mission is just 12 days short of Scott Kelly's all-time U.S. record

LONGEST CONTINUOUS SPACEFLIGHTS

Days in space

				Days in space
Valery Polyakov	Russia	1994-95	Mir Space Station	437
Sergei Avdeyev	Russia	1998-99	Mir	379
Vladimir Titov	USSR	1987-88	Mir	365
Musa Manarov	USSR
Mikhail Kornienko	Russia	2015-16	ISS	340
Scott Kelly	U.S.
Christina Koch	U.S.	2019-20	ISS	328
Yury Romanenko	USSR	1987	Mir	326
Sergei Krikalev	USSR/ Russia	1991-92	Mir	311
Peggy Whitson	U.S.	2016-17	ISS	289

Koch travelled 223 million km in 5,248 orbits of Earth, equal to 291 round trips to moon and back