

Today in History

April 14, 2019

▲ Tiger Woods won the U.S. Masters to record his first major golf title in 11 years. It was his 15th major overall and gave him a fifth green jacket at Augusta

1900: The Exposition Universelle, celebrating the achievements of the previous century, opened in Paris

1915: A vaccine for typhus, a now rare disease associated with poor sanitary conditions, was created

1975: The electorate in Sikkim voted to abolish the monarchy and seek full Indian statehood

2010: Hundreds of flights were cancelled in Europe due to a huge ash cloud from an Icelandic volcano