

Today in History

May 4, 2019

▲ Vajiralongkorn, King of Thailand since 2016, was officially crowned sovereign. His fourth wife Suthida Tidjai, who he married days earlier, was declared Queen consort

1925: The Geneva Conference for the Supervision of the International Traffic in Arms began

1980: Josip Broz Tito, President of Yugoslavia, died aged 87. He was the first Communist leader to challenge Soviet dominance

2005: A new species of birdlike, feathered dinosaur was discovered in Utah

2010: Pablo Picasso's Nude, Green Leaves and Bust fetched $106m at auction in New York