

Covid-19 disastrous impact on women

Disruption to global health services caused by lockdowns could result in millions of women being denied access to contraception, experiencing unwanted pregnancies and facing gender-based violence

