

Today in History

June 15, 2019

▲ Renowned Italian director Franco Zeffirelli, famed for his 1968 film adaptation of Romeo and Juliet (above) and lavish opera productions, died aged 96

1215: The Magna Carta established the principle that everybody in England, including the king, was subject to the law

1860: Florence Nightingale founded her nursing school at St Thomas's Hospital in London

1960: South Korea's government promulgated a new constitution with a parliamentary system of government

1995: The prosecution at the trial of O.J. Simpson insisted he try on a pair of gloves found at the murder scene