

Today in History

June 18, 1815

▲ Napoleon was defeated at Waterloo by British, Prussian and Dutch forces under the command of the Duke of Wellington and General Bluecher

1915: The Second Battle of Artois ended in World War One with huge losses for both France and Germany

1953: The new Republic of Egypt was proclaimed

2000: Ethiopia and Eritrea signed an official ceasefire and agreed to work towards a final peace settlement

2000: Tiger Woods won the 100th U.S. Open golf championship at Pebble Beach, California, by a record margin of 15 strokes