

Streaming fuels music industry boom

Music streaming accounted for more than half of the $20.2 billion recorded music revenue for the first time last year, driving the industry back to prosperity in the digital era

Global recorded music revenues by segment (2019, $ billions)

