

Spread of Covid-19 in Latin America

Latin America and the Caribbean now account for 50 percent of coronavirus cases in the Americas, and the number of infections continues to accelerate, according to the World Health Organisation

