

Today in History

September 9, 2015

▲ Queen Elizabeth II became the longest-serving monarch in British history, after 63 years and 216 days. She came to the throne on February 6, 1952

1839: British scientist John Herschel, who coined the term photography, took the first photograph on a glass plate

1963: The first ever live birth in captivity of a giant panda, a male cub, took place at Beijing Zoo

1991: An Israeli teenager showed detectives how he hacked into U.S. Pentagon computers to find out how top-secret Patriot anti-missiles worked

2016: North Korea conducted its fifth and largest nuclear test to date