

One billion face displacement by 2050

A new report warns that more than one billion people from the world's most vulnerable areas face mass displacement by 2050, unable to cope with looming environmental crises

ECOLOGICAL THREAT REGISTER – Number of ecological threats

Picture: Getty Images

► Main threats: Rapid population growth, lack of access to food and water, increased exposure to natural disasters

► Most threatened: 141 countries exposed to at least one threat. 19 countries – with 2.1 billion people (25% of world's population) – face four or more threats

