

Today in History

October 13, 2019

▲ U.S. gymnast Simone Biles, 22, became the most decorated artistic gymnast of all time, with a total of 25 World Championship medals, 19 of them gold

1990: The first Russian Orthodox service for more than 70 years was held in St Basil's Cathedral in Moscow

1995: Failure by 42 governments to agree international curbs on the use of land mines provoked outrage

2010: All 33 Chilean miners trapped underground for 69 days after a cave collapse were winched to safety

2015: It was confirmed that a Russian missile fired from Ukraine hit Malaysia Airlines flight MH17