

Economies forecast to recover in 2021

All G20 countries except China are facing recession this year – reflecting the global health crisis – but economic activity should pick up in 2021, according to the latest OECD Interim Outlook

Real GDP* growth forecasts

(% year on year)

*Real gross domestic product is an inflation-adjusted measure that reflects value of all goods and services produced by economy in given year