

U.S. sale of advanced weapons to Taiwan

The White House is pushing ahead with a raft of arms sales to Taiwan, in a move likely to anger China. The multi-billion dollar deal reportedly includes as many as seven major weapons systems

POTENTIAL U.S. WEAPONS SALES TO TAIWAN

■ SLAM-ER: Boeing-made air-to-ground missiles. Range: 278km

■ F-16 external sensor pods
Allow real-time transmission of imagery and data from aircraft back to ground stations

■ High Mobility Artillery Rocket System (HIMARS)
Truck-based rocket launcher made by Lockheed Martin. Carries six precision-guided rockets or one tactical missile

■ RGM-84 Harpoon Block II
Mobile coastal defence system equipped with approximately 100 Boeing-made anti-ship missiles.
Missile range: 124km

■ Underwater sea mines
To deter amphibious landings

■ MQ-9B SeaGuardian
At least four General Atomics-made surveillance drones with operating range of up to 6,000km

■ M109A6 Paladin
Self-propelled howitzer armoured vehicles

*Standoff Land Attack Missile-Expanded Response

Pictures: Wikimedia, Flickr