

Europe's businesses under threat

Over half of Europe's small and medium-sized companies – which together provide jobs for more than 90 million workers – fear for their survival in the coming 12 months

- Receiving state support (%)
- State support is not enough (%)
- More redundancies expected this year (%)
- One year-plus needed to recover (%)

German, French and Italian businesses have received least state aid

UK-based YouGov survey of 1,923 companies in five countries, Sep 23 - Oct 2