

Today in History

November 18, 2015

▲ New Zealand rugby star Jonah Lomu, who revolutionised his sport with a blistering combination of size and speed, died at age 40 from a rare kidney condition

1970: West Germany and Poland initialled a treaty recognising the Oder-Neisse line as a common border

1995: The Pope decreed the Roman Catholic ban on the ordination of women as priests to be infallible

2000: Hollywood glamour couple Michael Douglas and Catherine Zeta Jones were married in New York

2010: General Motors was relisted on the New York Stock Exchange in the biggest IPO in U.S. history