

Giant iceberg could strike wildlife haven

The world's biggest iceberg is on a collision course with the British Overseas Territory of South Georgia, threatening the breeding grounds for elephant seals, fur seals and king penguins

King penguins on South Georgia Island

