

China's Himalayan land grabs

China has built a village in Himalayan territory claimed by the kingdom of Bhutan. The settlement, called Pangda, is near the Doklam Plateau, where the borders of China, India and Bhutan converge

