

Today in History

March 24, 2016

▲ New Zealanders voted to retain their existing flag over a proposed design featuring the silver fern. More than two million people voted in the referendum

1401: In his sweep through Asia and the Mediterranean, the Tatar ruler Tamerlane conquered Damascus

1976: Argentine president Isabel Peron was deposed in a bloodless military coup

1996: Iraqis voted in the first parliamentary elections since the 1991 Gulf War

2018: School students called for tighter gun controls in mass “March For Our Lives” protests in the U.S.