

Coronavirus impact on savings

Households in the world's largest economies amassed $2.9 trillion in extra savings during pandemic lockdowns – spending power that could help global recovery, according to Bloomberg Economics

