

Suez canal crisis strains global trade

The stranded mega-container ship in the Suez canal is holding up around $9.6 billion of goods each day, according to shipping data

■ Some 5.5 million barrels per day (bpd) of crude and oil products transited Suez canal and Sumed Pipeline in 2016, according to EIA

■ Rerouting around Africa could add $300,000 in fuel costs for supertanker delivering Middle East oil to Europe

SHIPPING TRAFFIC: Canal blockage adding strain to global supply chains already disrupted by pandemic and surge in demand for goods

Number of ships ■ Oil tanker ■ Dry-bulkers ■ Container ships

Picture: Associated Press