

Today in History

May 9, 2020

▲ Rock 'n' roll pioneer Little Richard, famous for hits like Good Golly Miss Molly, and Tutti Frutti, with its lyric “awopbopalooobop alopbamboom”, died at age 87

1896: The first Horseless Carriage Show, with 10 models on display, opened to the motor trade in London

2015: The World Health Organization declared Liberia Ebola-free, after 42 days with no new cases recorded

2016: UEFA President Michel Platini resigned after being convicted of conflict of interest for taking a $2m payment

2017: President Trump fired FBI Director James Comey, who was investigating his election campaign