

Today in History

June 2, 1886

▲ Grover Cleveland became the first U.S. President to marry while in the White House. He was 49 and his bride, Frances Folsom, his former ward, was 21

1946: King Umberto II of Italy was exiled after the monarchy was abolished in a referendum

2014: King Juan Carlos of Spain abdicated after 39 years. He became king after the Franco dictatorship

2014: Telangana, India's 29th state, came into being after the state of Andhra Pradesh formally split in two

2015: FIFA president Sepp Blatter resigned in the wake of an FBI-led corruption investigation