

Today in History

June 10, 1921

▲ Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh and husband of Queen Elizabeth II for 73 years until his death in April, was born in Greece. He would have been 100 today

1954: An aerial search party found over 100,000 people isolated from the world in the highlands of Papua New Guinea

1971: The United States formally ended its 20-year-old embargo on trade with China

2002: Microelectrode arrays inserted into the arm enabled the first direct electronic communications between the nervous systems of two humans

2020: The United States surpassed two million cases of Covid-19