

World on brink of hitting temperature limit

A new study concludes that by 2025 the world could see a one-year spike in temperature, rising to 1.5°C above the pre-industrial era – the lower of two temperature limits set by the Paris Agreement on climate change

TEMPERATURE DIFFERENCE FROM PRE-INDUSTRIAL ERA

