

Today in History

July 6, 1971

▲ Eminent jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong died. His bands, the Hot Five and Hot Seven, made a revolutionary impact on jazz in the mid 1920s

2001: Former FBI agent Robert Hanssen pleaded guilty to spying for the Russians for 25 years

2006: The Nathula Pass, an historic trade route between India and China, was reopened after 44 years

2011: European bankers and government officials met in Paris to discuss plans to relieve Greek debt

2016: Nintendo released its augmented reality game, Pokémon Go, which became an instant hit