

Perceptions of U.S. mixed across Europe

As President Joe Biden embarks on his first overseas tour, a survey of European attitudes suggests he has not won back the standing of the United States as it was before the Covid-19 pandemic struck

PERCEPTIONS OF U.S. RELIABILITY (in 10 countries, percentage)*

U.S. PERSPECTIVE: Most trusted European allies

President Biden will attend G7, NATO and European Union summits during his eight-day trip to Europe

*Survey of 1,000 adults in each country, conducted online between Mar 29 and Apr 13