

Jun 28-Jul 11

London

Wimbledon 2021: Women's preview

Since Wimbledon 2018, eight different women have celebrated Grand Slam success. After the withdrawal of four-time major champion Naomi Osaka, this year's grass court showpiece promises to be highly competitive

PLAYERS TO WATCH

Ashleigh Barty

Frustrated by injury during clay court season, World No.1 aims to improve on 4th round here

Elina Svitolina

Aiming to secure maiden major title – made semi-final here in 2019, losing to eventual winner Halep

Barbora Krejčíková

Roland Garros champion makes debut in singles at SW19. Won doubles title here in 2018

Coco Gauff

Reached first Grand Slam quarter-final in Paris, two years after Wimbledon breakthrough

PLAYER RECORD

	Barty	Svitolina	Krejčíková	Gauff
2021 win-loss	28-6	21-11	26-9	27-10
2021 titles	3	0	2	1
Career titles (total)	11	15	2	2
Grand Slams	1	0	1	0

ANOTHER CHANCE: Three months from her 40th birthday, Serena Williams makes fresh bid for record-equalling 24th Grand Slam singles crown, but has lost four major finals since winning last major title at 2017 Australian Open

All-time Grand Slam titles

Margaret Court 24

Serena Williams 23

Steffi Graf 22

Helen Wills Moody 19

Chris Evert 18

Martina Navratilova 18

Source: WTA
Pictures: Getty Images © GRAPHIC NEWS

