

A photograph of Amy Winehouse performing on stage. She is wearing a black and white checkered corset-style top with lace trim and a red bra strap. She has her signature beehive hairstyle and is holding a microphone to her mouth with her right hand and a microphone stand with her left hand. The background is dark with some geometric patterns.

Today in History

July 23, 2011

▲ Amy Winehouse, the British singer-songwriter best known for her multi-award winning album Back to Black, died from alcohol poisoning at the age of 27

2000: U.S. golfer Tiger Woods won the British Open at St Andrews, completing a Grand Slam of major titles

2001: Pope John Paul II appealed to U.S. President George W. Bush not to support the use of human embryos in medical research

2004: A replica of Mostar's destroyed Ottoman bridge was opened in Bosnia

2015: The first exoplanet found in the habitable zone of a sun-like star, Kepler-452b, was discovered