

Norway government facing election defeat

Norway's centre-left opposition parties are expected to defeat Conservative Prime Minister Erna Solberg's coalition in the September parliamentary election, according to opinion poll results

POPULARITY OF NORWAY'S PARTIES

Predicted vote share in Sep 2021 election (%)*

(2017 election result)

Labour Party (Ap)

23.5 (27.4)

Conservative (H)

18.2 (25.0)

Centre Party (Sp)

16.4 (10.3)

Progress Party (FrP)

9.3 (15.2)

Socialist Left (SV)

8.6 (6.0)

Red Party (R)

7.5 (6.0)

4.5 (3.2) Green (MDG)

Arbeiderpartiet

3.8 (4.2)

Christian Democrats (KrF)

3.2 (4.4)

Liberal (V)

Government parties

*According to Kantar for TV2 poll of 977 respondents, Aug 2-6, 2021

Sep 13 vote could end bid by Solberg (above) for third consecutive term and allow Labour Party leader Jonas Gahr Støre (left) to negotiate power-sharing deal with left-leaning groups

