

Today in History

November 28, 1971

▲ The prime minister of Jordan, Wasfi Tell, (pictured on right, with Yasser Arafat) was shot dead by Black September terrorists in Cairo, Egypt

1950: An estimated 200,000 Chinese troops poured over the River Yalu as China entered the Korean War

2000: The Netherlands became the first country in the world to legalise euthanasia

2010: WikiLeaks published confidential documents from the U.S. State Dept. to its diplomatic missions around the world

2010: As the eurozone continued to struggle, Ireland became the next EU country to accept a bailout