

Today in History

February 13, 2021

▲ Donald Trump, the only U.S. President to be impeached twice, was acquitted by the Senate in his trial for his role in the January 6 attack on the Capitol

2003: Initial findings into the Columbia disaster suggested that a breach in the space shuttle's skin allowed entry of superheated gases

2011: Thousands of Italian women protested against premier Silvio Berlusconi's recent sex scandals

2017: Kim Jong-nam, half-brother of North Korean leader Kim Jong-un, was killed by poison sprayed into his face

2019: NASA concluded its 15-year Opportunity Mars rover mission