

Commanders among Russian dead

Three weeks after President Vladimir Putin invaded Ukraine, Russia has lost as many soldiers as the number of U.S. troops killed over 20 years in Afghanistan and Iraq combined

7,059
U.S. service members killed in Afghanistan and Iraq

20,752
wounded

7,000+
Russian service members may have been killed in Ukraine*

14,000-21,000
wounded

Russia's Defence
Ministry admits 498 soldiers have lost their lives

498

*U.S. intelligence estimates

Feb 26: General Magomed Tushaev, 141st Chechen tank regiment

Feb 28: Major General Andrei Sukhovetsky, 41st Combined Arms Army

Mar 7: Major General Vitaly Gerasimov, 41st Combined Arms Army

Mar 11: Major General Andrei Kolesnikov, 29th Combined Arms Army

Mar 15: Major General Oleg Mityaev (left), commander of 150th motorised rifle division Federal Security Service: Head of FSB's foreign service, Sergey Beseda (right), allegedly detained for providing poor intelligence

