

Today in History

May 15, 2016

▲ Red Bull driver Max Verstappen, aged 18, became the youngest ever driver to win a Formula One Grand Prix. In 2021 he won his first F1 World Championship

1862: The first sports ground designed exclusively to stage baseball opened in Brooklyn, New York

2007: Mark Rothko's White center (yellow, pink and lavender on rose) fetched over $72.8m at auction

2007: Canada's Thomson Corporation acquired the Reuters news agency in a deal valued at $17.2 billion

2012: Mexico's Carlos Fuentes Macias, influential Spanish-speaking novelist, died at age 83