

Today in History

May 31, 2021

▲ China replaced its existing two-child policy to allow couples to have three children, in order to increase declining birth rates and maintain a stable population

1911: The Titanic was launched in Belfast. The largest vessel then afloat famously sank on its maiden voyage

1927: The last ever Model T Ford, number 15,007,003, rolled off the production line

2002: The FIFA World Cup, co-hosted by South Korea and Japan, began

2021: The WHO began using the Greek alphabet for Covid-19 variants to avoid stigmatizing countries where variants first detected