

Civilian gun ownership

An average of 124 Americans died from gun violence every day in 2020 – up 15 percent from 2019 – the highest level ever recorded, according to the Johns Hopkins Center for Gun Violence Solutions

Civilian gun ownership (firearms per 100 people, selected countries)

U.S. domestic firearms production
(millions, excludes revolvers and shotguns)

2020: Gun violence in U.S. increases during Covid-19 pandemic. 45,222 Americans – including 4,368 young people – die from gun-related injuries

