

War failings could hurt Russian arms sales

Russia's invasion of Ukraine has been a public relations disaster for the world's second-largest weapons exporter, with images of wrecked tanks and a reportedly high failure rate for some Russian missiles

RUSSIAN ARMS EXPORTS

Figures are SIPRI* Trend Indicator Values (TIVs) expressed in millions. TIV of item being delivered is intended to reflect its military capability rather than its financial value
*Stockholm International Peace Research Institute