

Zaporizhzhya poses radiation risk

Zaporizhzhya nuclear power plant had to use emergency backup diesel generators after Russian shelling cut electricity, interrupting vital cooling water pumped through its reactor cores

☢ Power plant ● Nuclear reactor ● Decommissioned reactor

Cooling failure: Fuel heats up and can melt through reactor vessel to release highly radioactive fission products into environment