

Russian setback in northeast Ukraine

Ukrainian forces have made sweeping territorial gains in the northeast of the country, handing Russia its most serious military defeat since its troops were driven back from the capital, Kyiv, in the spring

