

Donald Trump's legal woes

Former U.S. President Donald Trump is under investigation for several possible crimes, such as allegedly mishandling top secret documents

CAPITOL RIOT

Investigation: Trump's alleged role in attack on U.S. Capitol, when mob tried to prevent confirmation of Joe Biden's (right) election victory. Congressional committee making case that his election fraud claims led to riot

Trump response: Denies allegation. Describes committee as "kangaroo court". Continues to make unsubstantiated voter fraud allegations

Seriousness: Committee* votes to subpoena Trump, making him obliged to testify to Congress. Will likely defy subpoena

MAR-A-LAGO

Investigation: Department of Justice looking into movement of thousands of documents from White House to Mar-a-Lago†, some marked as "top secret"

Trump response: Denies wrongdoing, saying he declassified material when president. Has not said why documents were moved

Seriousness: Active criminal investigation could bring charges of violating Espionage Act and Obstruction of Justice

NEW YORK

Investigation: New York Attorney General Letitia James (left) leads civil investigation‡ to see if Trump Organization overstated real estate values to gain favourable loans and tax rates. District Attorney Alvin Bragg (left) leads criminal case

Trump response: Refuses to answer questions when called for interview by James

Seriousness: James' lawsuit alleges Trump and three eldest children inflated company's net worth by billions

GEORGIA

Investigation: Alleged attempts to overturn 2020 presidential election result. Prosecutors have phone recording of Trump calling state's top election official saying: "I just want to find 11,780 votes" – amount needed to give him victory

Seriousness: Allegations are serious and if indicted and convicted, people will go to prison. Unknown if Trump directly investigated, but former personal lawyer Rudy Giuliani (left) is – he led legal challenges disputing election result
