

Today in History

November 5, 2021

▲ Pop superstars ABBA released their first album for 40 years. The album, Voyage, preceded concerts featuring digital avatars of the band in all their 1970s glory

2007: President Pervez Musharraf of Pakistan suspended the constitution on the grounds of growing Islamic militancy and hostile judges

2007: Hollywood screenwriters went on strike in a dispute over royalties

2007: Google unveiled the Android mobile operating system, designed primarily for touchscreen devices such as smartphones and tablets

2007: China's first lunar satellite, Chang'e 1, went into orbit