

Today in History

November 24, 2021

▲ Magdalena Andersson became Sweden's first female prime minister. She resigned in October 2022 after her coalition lost its majority in a general election

1642: Dutch navigator Abel Tasman discovered what is now the Australian island state of Tasmania

1963: Lee Harvey Oswald, President Kennedy's assassin, was shot dead

1992: Queen Elizabeth described 1992 as her "annus horribilis" after the fire at Windsor Castle and failure of three of her children's marriages

2009: Michael Jackson's trademark white jewelled glove sold at auction for $350,000