

Today in History

January 2, 2002

▲ Scientists announced they had successfully cloned pigs without the presence of a gene that would cause a human body to reject a transplant

1938: German Chancellor Adolf Hitler was named "Man of the Year" by Time magazine

1993: On the first day of the European Single Market, thousands of Britons visited France to buy duty-free alcohol

2002: Nuclear rivals Pakistan and India were engaged in their biggest military build-up in 15 years

2003: Venezuela requested international help to resolve a crisis caused by a month-long general strike