

U.S. “bomb cyclone” disrupts Christmas

A dangerously cold Arctic air mass is set to grip the U.S. over the festive holiday period, upending travel plans for millions of people

Wind chill will make some temperatures feel like -40°C, able to cause frostbite in minutes