

Covid rules on travellers from China

Governments across the world are imposing restrictions on travellers from China amid a surge in Covid-19 infections

United States

Mandatory tests on arrivals from China beginning Jan 5. Air passengers must test negative within two days of departure

UK: Negative pre-departure test required from Jan 5

France

Negative pre-departure test required. Random PCR tests on arrival

Italy: Mandatory testing for all travellers upon arrival from China

Australia

Negative test required from Jan 5

India: Travellers from China, Hong Kong, Japan, Singapore, South Korea and Thailand must show negative test before departure

Japan:

Arrivals from China who test positive will be required to quarantine for seven days

Spain: Requires travellers from China to test negative or be fully vaccinated

Canada

Negative pre-departure test required

South Korea

PCR tests on arrival for travellers from China. From Jan 5, negative test result also required before departure

Qatar:

Negative pre-departure test required from Jan 3

Morocco

Imposing ban on people arriving from China, regardless of their nationality, from Jan 3