

Today in History

March 22, 1923

▲ French mime artist Marcel Marceau, best known for his stage persona Bip, the white-faced clown with striped pullover and battered top hat, was born

1919: The first international airline service, a weekly flight between Paris and Brussels, was instituted

1933: The first concentration camp in Nazi Germany was opened at Dachau. Over 30,000 people died there

1948: Andrew Lloyd Webber, British composer whose hit musicals include Jesus Christ Superstar, Phantom of the Opera, Evita, and Cats, was born

1993: Intel shipped the first Pentium chips, featuring a 60 MHz clock speed