

Today in History

May 4, 1904

▲ Charles Rolls and Henry Royce agreed to collaborate in the production of Rolls-Royce cars. Rolls is pictured above left, in the back seat of a 1905 Rolls-Royce

1493: Pope Alexander VI, a Spaniard, reconfirmed the rights of the Spanish crown in the New World

1863: The Maori uprising against the British began in New Zealand after 23 years of running conflict

1979: Margaret Thatcher, nicknamed the "Iron Lady," became the UK's first woman prime minister

1998: America's "Unabomber", who waged a 17-year campaign of bomb attacks, was given four life sentences