

Today in History

May 14, 2022

▲ 2022: The Kalush Orchestra from Ukraine won the Eurovision Song Contest, winning popular support for the war-ravaged nation amid Russia's invasion

1948: David Ben-Gurion proclaimed the establishment of the State of Israel

1973: The Skylab I laboratory, America's first manned orbiting space station, was launched

1993: The creation of a sanctuary for whales in the oceans around Antarctica was officially endorsed

2003: The foundation stone of the Moses Project, a system of mobile dykes to save Venice from flooding, was laid